PLANTERS, VASES AND WASTE BINS

ABOUT FAHARI

Everyday doesn’t have to mean ordinary.

The products that shape a space most are the ones nobody thinks to design.

Planters, bins, the pieces that hold and carry and contain — they sit in every room and every courtyard, and they are usually an afterthought. Fahari treats them as the opposite: objects worth designing properly, made to a standard that holds up in a house, a hotel or a school.

Form first, but never only form

A planter has to hold soil, take water and survive being dragged across a terrace. Fahari designs start from that reality and then earn their shape.

One family, many rooms

Each product shares a vocabulary with the rest of the range, so a single piece and a full specification both look deliberate.

Made close to home

Manufacturing in Kenya keeps the range responsive — to how people here use these products, and to what the market asks for next.

SETTINGS

Where Fahari belongs

The same range answers a two-bedroom apartment and a shopping-centre concourse.

Modern Homes

Living rooms, entrance halls and stairwells.

Gardens

Beds, borders and paved corners that need structure.

Hotels

Lobbies, corridors and poolside terraces where planting sets the tone before anyone reaches the desk.

Patios & Terraces

Outdoor rooms where furniture and planting share the floor.

Shopping Centres

Concourses, atriums and entrances.

Restaurants & Cafés

Dividers between tables, planted thresholds and street-side edges.

Schools

Courtyards, walkways and shared grounds.

Commercial Properties

Forecourts, lobbies and shared outdoor areas.

Offices

Reception areas, breakout spaces and desk clusters.

Landscaping Projects

Specified in quantity, where consistent form and finish across a whole scheme matters more than any single piece.

GIFTS AND BULK ORDERS

One for a friend, or a hundred for a project.

Send a planter as a gift.

A planter outlasts the flowers. Choose a shape and a colour for a housewarming, a wedding or a thank-you.

Planters and bins in quantity.

For offices, hotels, restaurants, schools, estates and landscaping projects, where consistent form and finish across a whole scheme matters more than any single piece.
